III. FACTS

11. On June 9, 2006, at approximately 8:50 p.m., Plaintiff was the backseat passenger in a vehicle stopped on the 400 block of West King Street in Lancaster City by the individual Defendants, all officers employed by the City of Lancaster working in the Lancaster City Police Department.

12. The vehicle was driven by Manuel Gonzalez. Carlos Almodovar, Plaintiff's brother, was the front-seat passenger.

13. Multiple officers, including the individual Defendants, converged on the vehicle with their weapons drawn, suspecting that Carlos Almodovar had recently sold narcotics to an undercover Lancaster City police officer.

14. Upon information and belief, all individual Defendants named herein participated in and/or witnessed the forceful removal of Manuel Gonzalez and Carlos Almodovar from the vehicle.

15. After pulling Carlos Almodovar from the vehicle's front passenger seat, Defendant Roache looked at the other officers at the scene and said "When he [Plaintiff] gets out, fuck him up."

16. Defendant Roache opened the rear passenger-side door in an effort to forcibly remove Plaintiff.

17. Plaintiff told Defendant Roache that he would exit peacefully.

18. Defendant Roache persisted in attempting to forcibly remove Plaintiff from the backseat of the vehicle, causing Plaintiff to hold on to the front-seat headrest and to fear for his life and well-being.

19. At no time did Plaintiff strike, attempt to strike, or intend to strike the Defendant police officers or any other police officer. At no time did Plaintiff resist arrest or threaten in any way to resist arrest.

20. Upon information and belief, Defendant Morant opened the rear door on the driver's side, instructed Defendant Roache to back away, and administered a burst of oleoresin capsicum ("O.C") spray directly into Plaintiff's face.

21. Immediately thereafter, Defendant Morant administered a second burst of O.C. spray directly into Plaintiff's face without waiting for the first to take effect.

22. Despite having just administered two bursts of O.C. spray, upon information and belief, officers unknown to Plaintiff at this time dragged Plaintiff from the vehicle's backseat via the rear driver's side door and threw him, face down, onto the street and into the travel lane on West King Street in Lancaster City.

23. Upon information and belief, officers unknown to Plaintiff at this time began, without provocation, assaulting Plaintiff while he was face down in the street, kicking Plaintiff and pushing his face into the street.

24. Defendant Blake, among other officers, placed Plaintiff in handcuffs, whereupon Defendant Blake, without provocation, kicked Plaintiff in Plaintiff's ribs, punched Plaintiff in Plaintiff's neck, and, again without provocation, administered a third burst of O.C. spray to Plaintiff's face from approximately one foot away. At no time during the course of this incident did Plaintiff either resist in any way or behave aggressively.

25. Upon information and belief, all individual Defendants named herein participated in and/or witnessed the forceful removal of Plaintiff from the vehicle and the subsequent mistreatment of the Plaintiff.

26. The actions of the Defendants were undertaken in a menacing and arbitrary manner, designed to cause Plaintiff pain, fear, distress, and embarrassment.

27. Plaintiff was removed from the travel lane on West King Street, escorted to a police cruiser, and transported to the Lancaster City police station.

28. While at the police station, Plaintiff suffered a severe reaction from the three separate bursts of O.C. spray that he had withstood.

29. Plaintiff was blinded in both eyes from the chemicals and his symptoms included intense pain, watery eyes, burning in the eyes, and difficulty breathing. Plaintiff, while still in the custody of the Lancaster City Police Department, was conveyed later that evening to Lancaster General Hospital for treatment for the chemical exposure.

30. Defendant Ginder accompanied Plaintiff to Lancaster General Hospital.

31. While Plaintiff was receiving treatment for chemical exposure at the hospital, solution washed into Plaintiff's mouth, forcing Plaintiff to gag and reflexively attempt to purge the solution from his mouth.

32. Falsely claiming that Plaintiff was spitting, Defendant Ginder, on two occasions, forcibly covered Plaintiff's mouth with his hand. These actions interfered with Plaintiff's treatment and deprived Plaintiff of oxygen and the ability to breathe.

33. Defendant Ginder applied such force to Plaintiff despite the fact that Plaintiff's extremities were restrained and he was not a threat to Defendant Ginder or to any medical personnel that were administering treatment to Plaintiff for the chemical exposure from which he suffered.

34. When Defendant Ginder applied such force, Plaintiff had the sensation that he was drowning, and consequently was terrorized and feared for his life.

35. When Plaintiff asked Defendant Ginder why Defendant Ginder was "trying to kill" him, Defendant Ginder had no response.

36. Plaintiff returned to Lancaster General Hospital on June 10, 2006, the day after he was arrested by Defendants, and was diagnosed as having a cervical strain, head contusion, and lumbar strain caused by Defendants' actions during the course of Plaintiff's arrest on June 9, 2006.

37. Plaintiff also filed a Civilian Complaint with the City of Lancaster because of the unwarranted abuse he had endured at the Defendants' hands.

38. The foregoing conduct of the Defendants, acting under color of state law, was undertaken as part of an effort to unlawfully assault and otherwise deprive Plaintiff of his civil and constitutional rights, including Plaintiff's rights, privileges, and immunities under the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution and the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitling Plaintiff to relief pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 and the laws of Pennsylvania.
